THANKSGIVING

No Work on Village Roads Until Spring, Says Mayor

It has been decided that North Main St. will remain as is until spring, says Mayor Murrill Cunningham.

Although it was reported at the last meeting of the village board that the state recommended a good coat of gravel and oiling be done before winter set in to protect the road from further damage, no work is contemplated at the present, Mr. Cunningham says. A little gravel may be used to fill holes and keep the road from breaking up.

It is expected that the sewer service in Oakwood Knolls will start about the first of January. Work on sewers on the north side of the bridge will start Monday, Nov. 19.

No work will be done on roads in Oakwood Knolls until spring, Mayor Cunningham says. Although sewer lines have been laid along one side of the streets, stubs must still be installed across the roads to provide house service to residents on the other side of the street. This will necessitate tearing up the roads again. Any money put into the roads at this time, the mayor says, would be wasted.

No decision has been made as to whether to install a larger sewer pipe on south Main St.

Grayslake Woman Killed in Quarrel

Mrs. Bernice Stovall of Grayslake was killed by a shotgun blast after a quarrel with her husband, Woodrow, last Thursday night, when she told him she was leaving him, according to the couple's daughter, Sandra, who was present during the quarrel.

Woodrow Stovall was also wounded in the chest by the gun.

Sandra, 17, said she was present when her father struck her mother in the face with the shotgun during the quarrel as she and her mother prepared to leave their home. She ran to a neighbor's house to get help, and heard the gunshots as she left.

Mrs. Stovall died soon after police arrived. Stovall, wounded, said he had laid down the gun and Mrs. Stovall had picked it up and shot at him. He took the gun away from her, he claimed, and tried to scare her with a shot.

Asst. State's Attorney Hoogasian said Stovall would be charged with murder.

Lake Villa Man Killed in Accident

Ronald Jensen, 26, of Rt. 3, Lake Villa, was killed Friday in an accident about 8 p.m. on Rt. 21 near Aptakisic Rd.

Jensen was dead on arrival at Condell Memorial Hospital.

Driver of the other car, Strat G. Maharas of Chicago, said that Jensen drove into his lane. He said he was driving south on Rt. 21 when he saw the northbound car veering into his lane. He tried to avoid the car but was unable to do so.

Art Doheny to Speak, Lions Meeting Monday

The Antioch Lions Club will learn a little about juvenile delinquency in Lake County Monday evening, November 26, when they will hold their regular meeting at Lorenz's Smart Country House.

Guest speaker for the dinner session will be Art Doheny, of the Probation Office, Lake County Juvenile Court. Doheny came to the Probation Office in 1956 from the Family Court of Chicago, where he was a staff member for 15 years.

Mr. Doheny graduated from DePaul University with a Bachelor of Arts degree and also attended Loyola University studying juvenile problems.

Topic of Mr. Doheny's talk is "Juvenile Delinquency in Lake County" and will center on local area problems.

Also on the agenda for the evening, a slate of officers for the 1963 term will be presented by Dr. James Kopriwa, chairman of the nominating committee.

The meeting is scheduled for 7:15 p.m.

Descendant of Pres. Grant Now Citizen

A Lake County resident who is a former Russian prince and a great-grandson of former President Ulysses S. Grant became a citizen of the U. S. last Thursday.

Prince Michael Cantacuzene of 62 Dilly Road, Wadsworth, was born in Leningrad in 1900 and came to the United States in 1917. His family fled Russia during the Revolution. He and 78 other persons became U. S. citizens in the court of Judge Bernard M. Decker in Waukegan.

Car Hits Deer Near Antioch

Driving in the rain can always be hazardous. A new hazard was added in last Friday night's rain near Antioch for Joe Lishamer of Rt. 1, Box 550, Petite Lake. A deer came suddenly from the roadside into his path.

Result, a badly injured deer which had to be destroyed by game wardens and sheriff's deputies, and about $200 damage to Mr. Lishamer's car. Fortunately he was not injured.

Mr. Lishamer was on Rte. 59 about two blocks south of Rte. 173 at 6 p.m. Friday night when the accident occurred.

The deer was a two-point buck weighing about 200 pounds. Mr. Lishamer said game wardens told him ten deer had been hit by cars in the county in the last week.

Please! He's No Sissy!

Please stop sending those pink bordered congratulatory messages to Mr. and Mrs. Larry Lass of Antioch, congratulating them on the birth of a daughter recently.

James Edward, the new addition to the Lass family, is outraged at the slur on his masculinity. He is, he would like you to know, 8 pounds 6½ ounces of bouncing baby boy.

Due to a "slight" error, young Mr. Lass has been announced as a girl by various newspapers, including ours, and WKRS.

James Edward was born Tuesday, November 13, in Condell Memorial Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Larry Lass, reiterate, are the parents of a son.

Last Resort Closed

The State Liquor Board, reviewing the appeal of the Last Resort from the ruling of the County Liquor Board which revoked the license of the tavern, upheld the County Board.

The decision was announced last week by Howard Cartwright, Acting Chairman of the State Board.

The fight of the County Liquor Board to close the Last Resort started last June. The County Board twice closed the tavern, only to have it re-open almost immediately on an appeal to the State Liquor Board.

900 Served At St. Peter's

The St. Peter Festival and Turkey Dinner held Sunday, was a grand success, reported Father Henderson this week. Over 900 dinners were served by the Altar and Rosary Society and the festival during the evening was attended equally well.

Over 14 booths were available for the entertainment of those attending. Donald Dixon of Lake Zurich, walked off with the big prize of the evening, a 1000 pound steer. Angie Small, 487 Orchard St., Antioch, took home a 5 piece silver service set.

The dinner was under the direction of Harriet Runyard, Mary DeStefano and Helen Vogler, all of the Altar and Rosary Society.

The Festival was handled by Jim Leksich, Charles Forster and Emil Kubs of the Holy Name Society.

The games for children and adults continued until after 9 p.m.

Want to Act?, Sing & Dance

Attention, Show Biz Aspirants!

Can you sing? Dance? Act? Paint scenery? Change light bulbs?

If you can do any of these things, and would like to join a group with similar interests, the Palette, Masque & Lyre, Antioch's own theatrical group, will welcome you at their open audition for their January production of "All for One."

The audition for 16 cast members will be held Nov. 26, 28 and 30 at 8 p.m. in the choir room of the Antioch High School.

The play is an original musical with music and lyrics by Mac Ryan, who also collaborated with P. M. & L. in writing the script.

The Palette, Masque & Lyre group says they're endeavoring to find all the hidden talent in Antioch. Maybe you're an unsuspecting Sarah Bernhardt. You may start changing light bulbs, and find yourself in the title role.

The resignation of Larry Welsh as president of the club was accepted at a recent meeting of the club. Mr. Welsh has out of town commitments which make it necessary for him to give up the office. Ken Smouse was elected as president to replace him and Joe Hunley as vice president.

700 Attend H.S. Dedication

The Antioch High School was polished to a shining brightness for the dedication ceremonies on Sunday. Sheafs of flowers on stands and reproductions of famous paintings brightened the halls.

A display of historical paintings by Jackie Horton drew the attention of many of the 600-700 people who attended the dedication.

The display contained paintings of many of the original Grade Schools in the area, and one of the original High School. There was a picture of the old Bean Hill school, one of the original wooden grade school which stood at Main and Depot Sts., where the present modern grade school stands.

After the dedication ceremonies, a tour of the building was conducted, giving visitors an opportunity to view the attractive rooms of the new addition and re-modeled portions of the old building.

After a tour of the building, W. C. Petty, County Superintendent of Schools and a speaker on the dedication program, commented that the new building "meets the needs of the community at the present time and will be conducive to a good learning program."

Olbert Dittman, principle of the High School, commented, "As we grow in size—and we are growing rapidly—we must maintain our basic philosophies of learning. The most important requirement of a good school is still the relationship between child and teacher. This is a fine building, with fine tools of instruction, but these are material things, and only supplementary to the teaching process. The teacher is still the most important requirement. Audio visual aids, supplementary TV, etc., are fine tools, but let us not forget that they are only supplementary tools, not replace-

Car Rolls, Driver Not Injured

Ray Christensen, 62, of Rt. 5, Antioch, was apparently uninjured when his car rolled over Thursday night on Rt. 59 near Beach Grove Road south of Antioch.

Christensen told deputies he went off the road to avoid an oncoming vehicle, hit a culvert and rolled over.

Germak Nominee As President Of Realtors

The Waukegan-Lake County Board of Realtors is holding their November meeting at the Wing & Fin Club near Volo.

Officers for the coming year will be elected at this meeting. Nominees for the offices are Charles J. Germak, Jr., for president; Mary Poe Rodbro as vice-president; William G. Schwandt as secretary-treasurer; and for directors, Louis I. Behn, Morton Engle, Clifford W. Johnson, John Leonard, Edwin Svoboda and Joseph J. Zorc.

Help! No Xmas Decorations For Antioch This Year?

Arrangements to decorate the city of Antioch and prepare for the coming of Santa Claus and the Christmas season have somehow been forgotten by organizations which usually handled these matters in former years.

Because no arrangements have been made, The Antioch News is arranging a meeting to try to organize a group to take charge of town decorations. We hope all business men and any interested parties will attend.

The meeting will be held at the Rescue Squad building in Antioch on Tuesday evening, Nov. 27, at 7:30 p.m.

The now-defunct Chamber of Commerce formerly handled city decorations for the Christmas season. The Lions Club, usually mindful of such civic affairs, is busy with another project, as are the Jaycees. However, members of both organizations have volunteered to assist with any physical labor that may be involved.

The Christmas spirit of the town, and the face we present to visitors, will be considerably dimmed without the boost of Christmas decorations. Arrangements should be completed by early December. So we hope to see a large group of civic-minded citizens at the November 27 meeting.

Plush Style Show Draws Crowd To Wilmot Ski Shop

By Pearl Kapell

A very plush showing of what the well-dressed skier will wear this year, male or female, drew about 1,000 visitors to the Wilmot Ski Shop Sunday afternoon. A good many Antioch residents were among the thoroughly appreciative audience.

The Open House Style show is held yearly at the Ski Shop. Previous showings, says Mrs. Jeanne Stopa, proprietor of the shop, were held at the Ski Fest of the Waukegan Ski Club and at the Sherman House in Chicago.

Models from Patricia Stevens and Playboy Magazine modeled creations by Willie Bogner and Dior, among others. All the models are skiers, incidentally. Male models displayed what the well-dressed man wears to collect his lumps and bruises—or to sail like a bird down the snowy slopes, whichever way you wish to view it.

Willie Bogner invented the popular stretch pants for skiers and the Wilmot Ski Shop is one of the few shops in the country to carry his line.

Imported sweaters, fur jackets, hats and boots, and after-ski lounge wear designed to make the most shrinking violet take up skiing, were among the items displayed.

The Wilmot Ski Shop, an adjunct of the ski slopes at Chicago's back door, is one of the biggest shops catering to the fast-growing group of enthusiasts for this sport. Mrs. Stopa goes to New York to select sweaters, etc.—all imported—for the shop. Accessories, even to purses, are dyed to match. It is definitely a specialty shop, with only quality clothes.

If you're the kind who worries about how you look on the way to the hospital in case of accident, feel free to take up skiing—if you can afford one of the little outfits at the Wilmot Ski Shop.

FATHER HENDERSON tosses up the first ball for the contest in the first basketball game played in the new St. Peter's addition.

Happy Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving is a family time—a time for reunion with those we love and of feasting. A time to be grateful for what we have, and for the ills and misfortunes we have avoided.

Thanksgiving observance varies greatly from family to family in America. Some cling to customs brought to this country by their ancestors. In some families, small traditions, repeated yearly, have become a highlight of the holiday without which it "wouldn't be Thanksgiving".

The ties of home and family are strong at this time, and many will travel a great many miles to be present at the Thanksgiving table. Parents and grandparents will wait eagerly for the return of married sons and daughters. Young men and women in service and away at college will rush home for a few days of happy visiting and home-cooked food.

To all who can make the trip home, a safe journey. And to all who have to spend the holiday away from home—there will be other Thanksgivings made more precious by the one you missed.

With the opening of pheasant season last Saturday, I have become an unseen spectator in a fight for survival. In the past two months, the early dawn hours have brought forth a rooster of have observed a cunning change in Sir Knight. No longer does he strut with head raised high above the brown woods, but rather he silently creeps along fence-lines where he can keep a wary eye on his deadly enemy. My binoculars afford me the chance to participate in all the actions without being seen. From where I sit, I'll wager my boots on Sir Knight, though, for what the Hunter doesn't know about my Sir Knight is that his abode contains two Ladies in Waiting and thus makes it possible he has a lot more to fight for.

MY OLE GRANDPAPPY USED TO SAY!

By the Rev. Fr. Edmond E. Hood

The man who curses and abuses a policeman in public over a 50c parking ticket, can expect little success in teaching his children respect and obedience to the law.

The sin we are slow to forgive, is often the one we are most apt to commit.

Some people never think about religion until they come in sight of a graveyard.

I wonder why it is that I always feel the most like putting munny in the hat, when my pocketbook is at home in my other britches pocket?

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU DURKIN

This is the Thanksgiving season, which is easily distinguishable from other seasons by the Christmas decorations and the promptings of merchants to do your Christmas shopping early.

It is also distinguishable by a tendency on the part of the American people to pause briefly in their work-a-day tasks to give thanks for their many blessings and to reflect with envy on the easy, uncomplicated life of those who celebrated the first formal Thanksgiving Day three hundred years ago.

It was easy for them to celebrate that first Thanksgiving Day; there was no income tax and precious little tax on property because they didn't have much; there was no juvenile delinquency and no fund raising drives for health agencies or churches to interrupt their quiet evenings around the open fireplace.

Overcrowded schools were unknown, the traffic problem was nil, and except for a bit of witchcraft here and there, their health problems were limited to a few items like typhoid, diphtheria, pneumonia and scapling; a far less impressive list than we are subjected to today.

They didn't have to worry about where their Forest Preserve District site was coming from or how to spend a substantial surplus of tax funds, nor did they have to face a future without justices of the peace and police magistrates.

This isn't to say that we don't have things for which to be thankful; we can be grateful that at least some of our citizens were born with hides thick enough and skulls dense enough to enable them to survive the arrows directed at public officials.

We can be grateful that great numbers of our people are so dedicated to protecting the public morals that they are willing, nay eager, to serve as volunteer censors mas list changes from dolls to guys.

Thanks for everything,
Along the Way

Your Governor Reports by OTTO KERNER

When we sit down to the traditional feast with our families on Thanksgiving Day, Americans throughout our great country should truly give thanks for the freedoms we enjoy—freedom to enjoy the fruits of our labors and to raise our children according to the dictates of our hearts and minds.

But to secure these freedoms and to guard them through the generations of our nation from our "Battle for Independence" to the "Cold War" in which we are engaged today, Americans in every age have been called upon to make sacrifices. These sacrifices have been made willingly in the faith that freedom must be secure for our nation.

Americans of every race and color, of every religious faith, have endured privation and danger, and all too frequently have given us their lives—that we might remain free. This precious gift cannot be taken lightly. By our acceptance, we must pledge always to keep the torch of liberty burning and to pre-over television programs, movies, books, and newspapers.

We can be thankful that a solution short of war has been found at least temporarily for the Cuban crisis and that some of our leaders are so "soft on communism" that they are willing to discuss and negotiate as long as there is a possibility of "peace with honor" and as long as there remains a better choice than "dead or Red."

We can be thankful for the spirit of the American people which prompts them to forget ideological differences and religious differences in time of disaster; that same spirit which prompts the American people to devote untold thousands of hours and millions of dollars to volunteer agencies dedicated to eliminating disease and hardship among our people.

We can be thankful too for little things, like a network of roads which lets us tour the hidden-away areas of our county where every hill and curve in the road can open up new vistas of quiet beauty and charm.

A word of Thanks can be said for the opportunity to live in an area blessed with great recreational possibilities, a chance to earn a good living in a variety of industries and commercial enterprises, a chance to insure our children a good education in good schools.

Lake County may fall short of the paradise that real estate developers and Chamber of Commerce types label it, but it is many levels above that assigned to it by the detractors, who would have complained about the weather or the quality of the fruit in the Garden of Eden.

And we can be thankful that those who do not like this area are free to move on or free to try to make it over into their idea of Paradise.

Not a bad freedom to have, at that.

Marriage is a give-and-take proposition. If the husband doesn't give the wife enough, she takes it.

Thanksgiving in Antioch—Yesterday and Today

What was going on in Antioch Thanksgiving week of former years?

We looked through some old issues of The Antioch News, and here are some of the events that were claiming the attention of Antioch residents on Thanksgiving past.

In the issue of Nov. 23, 1961, the village board had met to review the annexation of 80 acres acquired from the Ken Schreiber farm; a new High School Club had just been organized; a local chapter of the National Business Honor Society; a Chicago newspaper had carried a story of a gambling casino in a large house on Edwards Road, in the Antioch area; Quaker Stretcher Co. had been issued a charter for its Antioch industry; the Channel Lake basketball team played its first game in the new gym; and Coach Larry Leon had picked seven probable starters for his basketball squad—Doug Lang, Bill Oza, Bob Krieger, Denny Pogose, Bob Kubicki, Jim Brownlee and Joe Pleviak.

In the issue of Nov. 24, 1960, were pictures of the fire at the Chain O' Lakes Cleaners on Route 21; Quaker Industry officials announced that their move from Kenosha to Antioch would be gradual; the Grand Opening of the Ben Franklin store had just been held, and had set a record for customer volume; a charter had been issued to the new East Loom Lake Shores Improvement Assoc.; the G.A.A. and the Moose announced the start of a Toy Drive for the Christmas season; The Antioch High School Board was considering a third proposed building plan; the society page carried pictures of just-married Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Craig Kublank; and Coach Larry Leon listed some of the men on whom he pinned his hopes for a successful basketball team: Les Herbst, Ed Martin, Chuck Schuth, Dudley Sheehan, Brian Palenske, Brian Elliott, and Bob Martin.

In Nov. 26, 1959, Superintendent W. C. Petty, at a meeting of the High School Board suggested an addition to the high school be built in front of the existing structure; a meeting had been held in the village hall opposing the establishment of a cemetery at Beach Grove Road and Emmons School; indictments against three village officials for failure to suppress gambling had been quashed; Santa Claus was scheduled to visit the village on Dec. 5; the Salem Methodist Church had just celebrated its 80th anniversary; weddings included Miss Margaret Ann Friese and Alvin C. Nelson, and Jeanné L. Austen and Robert Nelson; Coach Larry Leon pinned his hopes for a successful basketball season on Bob Martin, Dick Wolf, Dick Gudgeon, Jerry Dahlman, John Pyles, Dave Hunsaker, Joe LoRusso, Rich Prange and Dan Elchak.

In the issue of Nov. 20, 1958, the new Lake Villa Community Methodist Church was being dedicated; the death of long-time resident Mrs. R. Sibley was announced; the Antioch Scouts were in first place in the McHenry County basketball league; the County Board was considering a petition of Richard Meyers to erect an outdoor movie at Grass Lake Road and Route 59; Santa Claus was scheduled to arrive in Antioch by plane on Dec. 6; and the Sequoia had lost the first basketball game of the season to Libertyville. Players were Magiera, Pyles, Martin, Dahlman, Gudgeon and Portalski.

In the issue of Nov. 28, 1957, the voters of the Antioch High School District were to go to the polls Saturday to vote on an increase in the educational tax (fund rate from 85c per $100 valuation to 80c; 150 trees had been removed from the village parking lot on Broadway; Justice of the Peace Herbert Litchfield was issuing court executions in an effort to collect personal property taxes; Santa Claus was to arrive in Antioch by helicopter on Dec. 7, and give free rides to some lucky children; the Sequoia had lost to Dundee in a non-conference game.

On Nov. 27, 1952, the Board of Education of the Antioch Grade School had announced Dec. 16 as the date for a referendum on the building of an eight-room addition to the school; the new gym at the Antioch High was to be initiated with the first basketball game played in it; Santa Claus was to come to Antioch the following Saturday; the deaths of two long-time Antioch residents were reported: W. H. Gifford and Joseph Panowski; and Deputy Sheriff Roger Kane and William Wood had filed suit against Mrs. Helen Gehrk for slander.

So there's some of the news of Thanksgivings past—additions to schools, basketball teams, new industries, weddings, deaths. And the coming of Santa. Wonder if he's going to make it this year?

Heart Council Meets Nov. 28

The first annual meeting of the Heart Council of Lake County will be held Wednesday, November 28, at 7 p.m. at the Waukegan Inn, in Waukegan.

"Heart Council, the heart conscience of Lake County, meets in quest of knowledge" is the theme for this first meeting.

Jules H. Last, M.D., Highland Park, President of the Heart Council will give the keynote address, "Heart Disease Control—Action Through Community Organization." Results of the Lake County Strep Throat Culture Project will be reported by Elmer Kadison, M.D., Chairman of the Heart Council Rheumatic Fever Prevention Committee. The cost of the Throat Culture Project was supported by a $15,820 grant by the Chicago Heart Association.

"Heart Fund Dollars Fight Them All" will be the subject presented by Millard Grauer, chairman of the Heart Council Heart Fund Advisory Committee. A film "Highlights in Heart Research" will accompany Mr. Grauer's presentation.

Fritz Sorenson, managing director of Radio Station WKRS will be master of ceremonies.

1963 Deadline For License Plates

Springfield, Nov. 13—Feb. 15 will be the deadline for displaying 1963 motor vehicle license plates, marking the eighth consecutive year that date has been observed, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter announced today. He emphasized that this is not an application deadline, but rather the final date to have the plates attached to the vehicles.

For motorists applying by mail, this means their applications should be in the office no later than February 1, Secretary Carpenter said. He again reminded motorists that they must show the driver license number on the plate application. If the vehicle is registered in two persons' names, the driver's license numbers of both of them must be shown.

If the applicant does not hold a driver's license, the word "none" should be shown. All applications will be returned when the space is left blank or in cases where one number is shown when there should be two, Mr. Carpenter said.

Mailing of the yellow and green 1963 plates will begin Saturday, Dec. 1, and over-the-counter sale in Chicago and Springfield will be started the same day, Secretary Carpenter said.

Alcohol is a pretty good preservative for most anything except secrets.

Just Follow The Easy Directions Thanksgiving Day Dilemma of the Housewife

By Pearl Kapell

Mrs. Gertrude Lampkin, University of Illinois home economist, says that the traditional Thanksgiving menu includes: turkey with dressing, cranberry sauce (made from fresh cranberries), creamed whole onions, mashed squash and turnips and hot mince and pumpkin pies for dessert.

This sounds fine—in theory. I wonder if any American family has all these items in their menu for the happy holiday.

The life of the housewife would be much easier if she could select a simple, traditional menu like this and stick to it, but what would be the reaction of her family? "Creamed onions?" "Ugh!" says Junior. "Don't have onions. Have that fancy bean dish you make." That fancy bean dish takes about an hour to prepare. But Mom can't bear to disappoint Junior, especially on Thanksgiving, so she makes the fancy bean dish.

If you need any proof that Americans are individualists, cook a holiday meal for them. Never, never can you find a whole family which agrees on the ideal dressing for a stuffed fowl.

Mom starts making dressing. Junior comes in the room. Mom's cutting up celery for the dressing. Junior recoils in horror. "Mom, You're not going to put celery in the dressing! I can't stand it. Put in lots of onions and leave out the celery."

Mom sighs and sets aside the celery. She starts cutting up onions.

Father enters. "Ahi! Making dressing, huh? Be sure to put in lots of celery. Go easy on the onions, huh? And don't put in sage. My mother never used sage. I can smell it a mile away. I hate the stuff."

Mom looks thoughtfully at the onions, picks up the equivalent of one onion, and sets the rest aside. While she contemplates the dish she is trying to prepare, and tries to figure out how to make it taste good without offending anyone—Grandpa will ask if he can't taste sage—she receives a barrage of varying advice from other family members. "Put in some sausage," "Make it dry," "Make it greasy." After a certain amount of this, she usually ends up by dumping in everything she's set aside and hoping they won't notice. There'll be criticisms when the bird reaches the table but everyone will eat it.

Multiply this procedure by the number of items on your menu, then by the number of people you're having for dinner and you have a fair estimate of why Mother looks tired Thanksgiving night. Grandpa won't eat anything with mayonnaise on it. Uncle Walter won't eat a salad without mayonnaise. Aunt Mary turns up her nose at any salad dressing other than Thousand Island. Uncle Bill likes oleo, Aunt Minnie won't eat a meal without butter.

Uncle Jack likes a little snort before dinner. Aunt Elsie is quite apt to leave the gathering in high dudgeon if she discovers the presence of alcoholic beverages in the house.

Were you ever foolish enough to promise to bake the favorite pie of each member of your family for a holiday dinner? The variety of pie you will serve will be limited only by the number of people being served. If you carry through with your promise. And it will, no doubt, include a few varieties like banana cream and lemon cream, which are not exactly tossed together in a matter of moments.

When it comes to coffee, you might as well be philosophical and make it to suit yourself. Then at least one person will enjoy it. And you'll need it, after you try to please everybody and find with dinner finally served, that you've forgotten some-

News For Women

URBANA — Holiday food stains can make your table linen as sad a sight as a turkey carcass. But if you work fast while you know what made the stain and before it sets in the fabric, the cloth can be as good as new for another celebration.

Mrs. Ruth Galbraith, a University of Illinois home economist, recommends using these procedures:

To remove cranberry stain, stretch the stained area over a bowl and pour boiling water from a teakettle held about three feet above the cloth. The water should strike the cloth with force. Now wash the cloth in a synthetic detergent and hot water. Do not use soap because soaps set some fruit and berry stains.

If the stain remains and the cloth is colorfast, sprinkle sodium perborate on the wet stained area and pour a small amount of very hot water through the stain. Rinse well. You can get sodium perborate at a drugstore.

Spilled coffee shouldn't spoil your day because you can remove coffee stains in this same way.

But change your method before working on stains made by meat juices, gravies or cream. Because hot water sets these stains, sponge them with cold or lukewarm water and then wash in warm, soapy water.

Don't let fear of spattered wax keep you from using candles. Simply scrape off as much as possible with a dull knife and then wash the linen in hot, soapy water. If the candles are colored, remove any remaining dye stain by bleaching.

When bleaching colored table linens, first test the effect of the bleach on the inside of the hem.

Bairstow Recommends New Driver Responsibility Laws

You have an automobile accident.

You have ample insurance coverage; the other guy does not. What happens?

Very possibly you are hooked—but good. You could be financially crippled for months—maybe years.

The Illinois Financial Responsibility Law covering car owners puts the cart before the horse in that it takes effect AFTER an accident has occurred. Authority for the statement is State Rep. Jack E. Bairstow, D-Waukegan.

Bairstow disclosed today that he already is preparing a bill for the 1963 session of the Illinois General Assembly to keep financially irresponsible drivers off the highways.

Briefly, it will provide that car owners must prove financial responsibility before they are granted state license plates and driver's licenses. Such a guarantee of financial responsibility before driver license and plate issuance is not now required.

The fully insured driver involved in an accident with the uninsured driver frequently winds up with a stack of hospital and property damage bills which he himself will have to assume because the other driver was not required and did not prove financial responsibility, Bairstow said.

Many a driver in Illinois takes the odd position that an accident always happens to the other man, never to him. Therefore, countless persons drive without insurance coverage and pose a constant peril to the thoughtful motorist who invests in full insurance coverage.

The simple solution, Bairstow said, is a revision of the law requiring financial responsibility be proved BEFORE driver licenses and state plates are issued.

In the same connection, Bairstow said the present Illinois apparently is under a cloud following a Colorado Supreme Court decision striking down the automobile safety law of that state. The Illinois and Colorado laws are almost identical, Bairstow said.

The Colorado law was knocked out because the Supreme Court said, it violated the due process manon of the law. In other words, it denied persons involved in accidents the opportunity to be heard on the question of whether sufficient grounds existed to warrant a revocation of the right to drive. The due process privilege also is denied the Illinois driver involved in accidents or in other instances where driver license revocation is involved, Bairstow said.

He said that inasmuch as the Illinois law apparently is under a cloud, a revision by the General Assembly appears overdue.

He said the state is duty-bound to protect the responsi-

Give a Bond For Christmas

New Gift Envelope For Savings Bonds

A familiar and popular gift item—United States Savings Bonds—will be available in an attractive new "package" this Christmas, according to Philip L. Speidel and John Meade, volunteer Lake County Bond Chairman.

The package consists of a handsome new gift envelope which will be available free at local banks and savings and loan association offices to purchasers of Savings Bonds to be used as gifts. The envelope is faced in blue with a drawing of the American eagle holding a red, white and blue streamer. It is backed in white and flapped with the blue inscription, "A Gift For You . . . A Share in America." Space for address and signature is also provided along with another inscription of "Keep Freedom in Your Future—with U. S. Savings Bonds."

"Coming at this time of year," Mr. Speidel and Mr. Meade said, "the new gift folder is an attractive bonus to Christmas givers. Throughout the year, however, these folders will be available for all types of gift occasions, and will be kept in stock by the banks and savings and loan associations for this purpose.

"The folders are easy to mail, and can be slipped into a Christmas card envelope or tucked into a child's Christmas stocking. However they are given, they are certainly easy to receive!"

ble driver. He will make the first move in 1963, Bairstow said, in his bill to require proof of financial responsibility before driver's permits and license plates are issued. He said the state must shuck the old bill which becomes effect AFTER an accident occurs.

Too often, he said, an irresponsible motorist inflicts accident damage which he is totally unable to help rectify from a financial standpoint.

States with the type of law Bairstow proposes now include California, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Congressman-elect McClary declared in his letter to ABC Television:

"In writing you with regard to the program entitled 'A Political Obituary for Richard M. Nixon,' I do not want to suggest any censorship of TV or other communication media. However, with regard to the best interests of our nation, I cannot help but observe that the program was degrading of a patriotic and esteemed American who has represented us in the world on many important occasions and who (but for the narrowest margin) might today be the leader in our struggle with the Communist world."

"The program, which purported to defend public officeholders against unfair attack, is bound to have exactly the opposite effect by discouraging responsible citizens from seeking or holding public office for fear of attack such as was provided by Howard K. Smith's program."

Turkish Teachers At Northern Ill.

Four Turkish high school teachers at Northern Illinois University this semester are comparing American high schools with theirs and picking up ideas to take back to Turkey.

The quartet is at NIU under the Technical Assistance Program of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. They like the American system of elective classes, the more leisurely study approach, the uncrowded classrooms, our guidance and counseling set-up, the larger number of social activities for students and relation between Colleges of Education and high schools.

Turkish teachers are Sadedtin Gul, mathematics instructor at Izmil Junior and Senior high schools; Nihal Arkan, chemistry teacher at Aydin High; Fatma Cagatay, math instructor at Ankara Ataturk High and Azade Tokdik, physics instructor at Istanbul Vefo High.

"The Turkish teachers have been to everything from a school board meeting (School District 301, including Burlington High) to a homecoming assembly at West Aurora High," according to Dr. William Ogilvie, NIU associate professor of secondary education. Ogilvie is in charge of the program for the Turkish visitors.

Classes in their special fields and a weekly seminar on secondary education fill much of the foreign teachers' time. When they return to Turkey, they will be assigned to experimental schools in Ankara and Istanbul which are patterned after American schools.

Retail Food Market Report

NOV. 19-24

CHICAGO—Split-week holiday merchandising finds most area food stores reverting to standard pricing for the weekend, turkeys moving up from their promotional early-week lows and pork cuts taking the meat value nod.

The University of Illinois weekly consumer service market survey, for the period ending Nov. 24, indicates these bargain buy opportunities:

Meats—pork loin roasts, steaks, chops, bacon, lamb leg roasts, beef rib roasts, round steak. Groceries—corn, tomato products, cooking oils, peaches, orange juice, fruit cocktail. Produce—cauliflower, squash, spinach, radishes, onions, carrots, broccoli, pears, bananas, Emperor grapes, grapefruit.

New post—Thanksgiving quotes for pork are worthy of mention as bargain buys. Portion cuts of ribs range 35-49c, loin portions 45-59c. Add an average 10c for more generous roast cuts. Center chops range mostly 69-89c, but will be tagged as high as 95c in some stores. Fresh Boston butts quote 39-49c, pork steaks 49-55c, and spare ribs 45-49c. Smoked plenums are an occasional bargain at 33-39c, boneless smoked butts 69-79c. Most top line bacon top at 69c and second line at 59c.

Wholesale turkey sales were mostly in small lots at the end of the holiday demand, the 35-39c promotional prices for Grade A frozen turkeys and hens to move up with store openings Friday to the previous 39-49c range, with some even quoting 6c above this figure. Total turkey storage stocks, estimated to be 58,000,000 pounds under year-ago, provide a reason for the quick upturn.

Produce markets are seasonally active, with the higher costs indicated for such lines as green beans, tomatoes, sweetcorn and even cabbage.

For Thanksgiving

Thomas Morton, one of the more colorful of the Puritans, is quoted on a subject of turkeys in "A Treasury of Birdlore," edited by Joseph Wood Krutch and Paul S. Eriksson, to be published by Doubleday on Nov. 16. In his report on New England, published in 1637 Morton writes:

"Turkeys there are, which divers times in great flocks have sallied by our doors; and then a gun being commonly in a redness, salutes them with such a courtesie, as makes them take a turne in the Cooke roome. They dance by the doore so well.

Of these there hath bin killed, that have weighed forty eight pound a peece.

They are mainly degrees sweeter than the tame Turkeys of England, feede them how you can.

I had a Savage who hath taken out his boy in a morning, and they have brought home their loades about noone.

I have asked them what number they found in the woods, who have answered Neent Metawna, which is a thousand that day; the plenty of them is such in those parts. They are easily killed at rooste, because the one being killed, the other sit fast nevertheless, and this is no bad commodity.

More Oldsmobiles Sold in 1963

Lansing, Mich., Oldsmobile customers throughout the nation have taken delivery of more new Oldsmobiles since the division's 1963 model introductory date than in any similar period in the company's history, it was announced today by Jack F. Wolfram, Oldsmobile's general manager and a vice president of General Motors.

"A strong first period in November," Wolfram said, "coupled with the best October we've ever had, has resulted in an unequalled sales volume of 71,291 Oldsmobile F-85's, 88's, 98's and Starfires in the four ten-day sales periods following our October 4 public announcement date.

"For the calendar year so far," he added, "Oldsmobile sales are 38 per cent higher than a year ago."

Sequoits Drop Opener To McHenry Fri. 74-63

The Antioch Sequoits dropped their opening game of the season before a capacity crowd at the Antioch High School Friday night, 74-63, to the McHenry Warriors.

The Sequoits jumped off to an 18-11 first quarter lead and it looked for a while like it might be a rout. By half-time the Warriors had closed the gap to 6 points at 41-35. McHenry dominated the boards throughout the second half and put on a 19 point burst in the third period while holding Antioch to a meager 7 points. High scoring Antioch forward, Bob Kubicki, fouled out early in the period and the lack of this extra scoring punch stifled the Sequoit offense.

The Warriors out pointed the Sequoits in the final stanza 20 to 15 to win going away 74-63. "Rebounding hurt us more than anything," Coach Roger Andrews said. "The loss of our top scorer so early in the game was another factor," he added.

Top scorer for the Sequoits was John Hallwas with 14 counters. Doug Lang followed with 11 and Kubicki dumped in 3 field goals and 4 free throws for 10 points.

Scoring honors for McHenry went to Rourke and Meyer with 23 and 15 respectively. Kusch and Fino led the Warriors in the rebounding department with 7 and 8 while Matejka and Lang grabbed off 6 each for the Sequoits.

Antioch hit on 21 shots out of 45 attempts while their opponents made good on 29 out of 70. The Sequoits cashed in 85% of their charity tosses, making 21 out of 24 to McHenry's 16 for 24.

The Sequoits' next outing will be Wednesday night at home against Mundelein. "Our practice sessions Monday and Tuesday will be devoted to defense and rebounding," Andrews said.

The Mundelein game will be the Sequoits' last test before their first conference outing against top seeded Lake Forest, Friday, Nov. 30.

The Antioch High School reported that only 800 seats will be sold for the games this season. More than 75 persons were turned away

JOHN HALLWAS (40) puts out the effort but the tip went to McHenry. Antioch lost their season opener to the Warriors Friday, 74-63.

Aim For Cash & Carry Taxes

Will Lake County be among the first in the state to operate its tax finances on a "cash and carry" basis and thus eliminate the expense of tax anticipation borrowing?

The answer to this question hinges on the outcome of a campaign launched by the Lake County Civic League last May. At that time League President Dwight Ingram sent an open letter to the county's 18 assessors urging that June 1st be established as the deadline for the completion of township assessment records.

The response to this letter is revealed in a recent memorandum to the League by Joseph P. Welch, Chairman of the Board of Review. Three of the county's 18 assessors completed their tax records for 1962 before the end of June, and a fourth turned in his books to the Supervisor of Assessments late in July, the Board of Review record reveals. If all remaining 14 assessors matched this performance, according to Chairman Welch the County's tax bills could be mailed out many weeks earlier than ever before, and ready cash would be available to finance school districts without need for emergency borrowing.

League President Ingram extended his organization's congratulations to the four "Early Bird" assessors, who turned in their books in June and July. They are: William W. Porter, Benton Township; Otto Mara, Newport Township; Al Knox, Elia Township; and R. C. Nagler, Cuba Township.

G. Dudley Kennedy, Assessor for Antioch Township, turned in tax records on September 7, 1962.

Red Kettles of Salvation Army Bow in Christmas Season

Bright and shining for their 27-day "working season," the little red kettles of the Salvation Army will make their annual appearance in Chicago and suburbs on Friday (Nov. 29), waiting for contributions to make Christmas a happy time for the unfortunate.

Stationed at busy street corners and shopping centers each day through Dec. 24, the kettles are the Salvation Army's major appeal to the public for help in bringing Christmas joy to some 40,000 needy persons in the Chicago area.

"We depend upon contributions to the Salvation Army Christmas kettles for support of the total holiday program, and also to supply some of the funds necessary for the other programs which offer help to the needy all year long," said Commissioner
Samuel Hepburn, Central Territorial commander.

Carrying out this idea are the red, green and white signs atop the kettle stands which read, "Give for Christmas Cheer and Welfare All Year."
Beginning with a limited number of kettle stand locations, Salvation Army officials expect to have 137 kettles in use as the holiday season advances. The kettle stands will be attended by cadets, officers, soldiers and Salvationists wearing regula-

Cancer Society Wins Contest

Lake County Chapter of the American Cancer Society was awarded first place in the Annual Scrapbook contest of the Illinois Division for chapters or units having daily and weekly newspapers.

Awards are given to the County Chapters in two fields, in areas where there are weekly papers, and those where they are both weekly and daily newspapers. The judging is based on newspaper coverage of the local and state program of the Society.
Judges say the books reflect the loyal cooperation of newspapers throughout the state in promoting the life-saving cancer control program of the American Cancer Society.

The Lake County Chapter,
located at 228 N. Geneseo St., Waukegan, is in need of volunteers to help with addressing and stamping in the office. The chapter will be happy to have anyone who can give some time between the hours of 9 a.m. and 2 p.m.
on any day, Monday through Friday.
Volunteers are also needed for transportation of cancer patients from home to hospital for treatment and return.
Drivers must provide their own cars. Anyone interested in providing this service to cancer patients is asked to call the chapter office, De-0-9293.

At Christmas time last year, at its corps and institutions
throughout the United States, the Salvation Army provided holiday dinners and other assistance for more than 1,600, 000 persons and distributed more than 550,000 toys to needy children.
